

Today is Binky the Bunny's first day at school, and he's a little nervous but excited to learn new things.

Binky listens carefully as Ms. Owl introduces all the new friends and fun activities they will do today.

At recess, Binky is shy to join the other children, but soon he makes friends with Sam and Lily, who invite him to play.

Binky feels happy and brave as he makes new friends and learns to share and take turns.

SHOW AND TELL

Binky finds the courage to share his favorite toy during show-and-tell and feels proud of himself!

Binky learns that being brave means trying new things, making friends, and feeling proud of who you are. What a wonderful day!
